I am talking about feeling it.) Keeping those feelings buried is toxic and causes all manner of negative and destructive things like depression, self-loathing (for feeling there's something the matter with you for feeling what you do), guilt and shame (I shouldn't feel that), projection (I can't feel that, so I am going to project it onto another person, as in "You're the one who's angry, not me"), and alcohol or other drug misuse (I do feel it and I shouldn't, so I have to numb out this feeling with this substance or behavior).
